

Protect
yourself.
Why wait?
Why hesitate?

If you are a woman aged between 35 and 50,
you may be at risk from cervical cancer.

This cancer develops in the birth canal,
the external part of the uterus.

It can be cured, if diagnosed at a very early stage.

You can find out if you're at risk by having regular examinations (smear tests). These are done by a doctor and are both simple and painless.

You can have this examination at a family planning clinic, a hospital, your family doctor's or, free of charge, at your PMI centre (mother and child protection centre).
